OUR HISTORY

Imagine
it's 1958...

Sir Edmund Hillary has just become the first person in nearly half a century to reach the South Pole. Bryan Barratt-Boyes has successfully performed New Zealand's first open-heart surgery. The All Blacks have won the Bledisloe Cup...again (go, you good thing!). Kiwis are achieving great things. And the same smarts, grit and belly-fire that made these achievements possible can be found in a handful of visionaries with an idea: to establish a school serving up exceptional biblical education, particularly to believers from Open Brethren churches. The result? That year, New Zealand Assembly Bible School (NZABS) was founded in Auckland.

DR RICHARD GOODWIN

Academic Director of Teaching & Learning
PhD Theology, MA Theology, BCS

1975

Fast-forward to 1975. Years earlier, a chocolate-maker-turned-missionary had established Gospel Literature Outreach (GLO) to promote a radical new idea: short-term missions. In those days, "short-term" still meant, like, three years (none of these namby-pamby two-week missions trips we call "short-term" now!). But three years still requires major training. So in the mid-70s, the GLO Training Centre was set up in Te Awamutu to help would-be missionaries from the Open Brethren movement prep for overseas missions.

2000

These two colleges both thrived—more like friends than foes. In fact, they worked so well together that they decided to make it official. In the year 2000, like the kids from Captain Planet, NZABS and GLO combined their academic and missional superpowers to become a single entity: Pathways College of Bible and Mission. Shortly after its beginning under this new name, Pathways moved from a residential to field-based (e.g. internship) model, which has allowed Pathways to retain the best of both its predecessor colleges, top-notch biblical study and real-world practical ministry.

NOW!

Back to the present day. Pathways College is carrying the torch, living into this rich legacy. The name, structure and haircuts have changed; the goal has not. We're still 100% committed to outstanding biblical and theological education. Throughout our history, we've trained 2000+ women and men to follow Jesus, become more like him and serve him whole-heartedly in the 21st century.

JESS LIVICK

CREATIVE ARTS PRODUCER & PATHWAYS GRADUATE 2020

Jess is working out her faith through creative media

I was volunteering in media at church but once I realised that working and volunteering within a ministry context was a possibility while gaining a recognised qualification, I started studying towards a NZ Diploma in Christian Studies (Theological) Level 5 with Pathways College.

My internship has impacted me in more ways than I can explain. I'm working within my passion in a ministry context. Doing this work for something so much bigger than myself and with good people by my side is a huge blessing.

I especially loved the practical side, directing the photography/videography team at church. We were shooting a variety of promotional videos on a topical preaching series, youth and family camp experiences, and church and youth activity highlights. I was also involved with church service planning and stage set design.

NZ Diploma in Christian Studies (Christian Leadership) 120 Credits NZQA Level 6

Method of Study: Full-time (1 year)

Unlock your true leadership potential with Christian Leadership Studies.

Our unique training programme will give you the skills to lead with integrity and purpose. We'll help you develop the strategic thinking, problem solving, and decision-making skills you need to excel in any leadership role. With our guidance, you'll discover how to effectively communicate your vision and create a lasting impact — all while staying true to your values.

Students are aligned to a Host Organisation throughout the year (church, mission, or parachurch organisation), with which they connect regularly. During the year, students complete two placements (usually around May and September-October) at this Host Organisation to fulfill the requirements for the two practical placement papers.

This structure presents many opportunities to develop relationships and learn leadership skills in practical settings. Students also attend four block courses throughout the year during which students engage with the lecturers and their cohort.

This programme consists of these papers:

- Leadership: Biblical Principles & Models
- Leadership: Identity & Calling
- Relational Leadership: Empowering, Ethical & Inclusive
- Working with Groups (Placement)
- Leading in a Digital & Secular Culture
- Leadership in Context (Placement)
- Strategic, Missional, Resilient Leadership

KARISSA ANDERSON

YOUTH PASTOR & PATHWAYS GRADUATE 2021

Karissa's working out her faith through inspiring young people

My priorities are Jesus first then having fun. I'm always on the go dividing my time between my role as a Youth Pastor and youth-related activities.

After college I hadn't given much thought to pursuing tertiary study as a path into ministry. However, I wanted to explore and deepen my understanding of who God is, and what His plan for my life might be.

Over a few years I got involved with working with youth and I really wanted to serve the Lord but wasn't sure how.

Then I heard about the Pathways College programme and I knew that was the next step for me. I interned full time at my church and a big takeaway for me was my realisation that my Christianity had become a 'to-do' list rather than an relationship with God.

Pathways College really helped me to mature and grow as a person. I absolutely loved the Block Courses at Pāpāmoa Beach. I enjoyed the connection, community and fun we had at our Block Courses.

BLOCK WEEKS

Students meet together face-to-face throughout the programme at Block Weeks (a week duration each time).

Block Weeks are held at Pacific Park Christian Holiday Camp close to the pristine white, sandy shores of Pāpāmoa Beach, Tauranga.

Students meet once at the beginning of the programme and then again at strategic points during the year. Level 5 students meet six times and Level 6 students meet four times during the year.

Teaching and learning approaches during this time prioritise the opportunity to develop/practise skills, hear and engage with experienced leaders and participate in workshops.

Importantly, these times provide the opportunity for students to share the results of their own study and inquiry with each other and to build relational connections. Sharing meals together evokes a sense of community and there is time to enjoy a stroll on the beach, a surf or a coffee at local cafes.

MENTORING

Our programme is supported through a strong mentoring network. Students have mentors to help guide them through ministry and study. You might have two individual mentors, or one mentor who covers your ministry and spiritual growth.

Internship Mentor

A ministry mentor shows interns the ropes within their chosen ministry placement and encourages good ministry habits.

Personal Mentor

This mentor is primarily concerned with the students spiritual development: how their relationship with God is going, how their prayer life is going; and supporting their spiritual needs.

Academic Support

This is provided by the Academic Management Team at Pathways College to ensure students stay on track with their assignment quality, their due dates, and any matters related to academic progress.

PLACEMENTS

NZ Diploma in Christian Studies (Theological Studies) (Level 5)

The NZ Diploma in Christian Studies (Theological Studies) (Level 5) uses an internship model that includes directed internship learning, requiring supervised experiential education in a local church or Christian organisation, as well as biblical and theological studies provided through block weeks.

We offer an academic internship that engages students in holistic learning; classroom-based teaching integrated with a study course involving guided field education through placement in a ministry context. Past students have interned within their own churches and specialised in ministries including creative media, youth work, children, music, and preaching.

We also partner with Christian Camping NZ and a number of our students choose to intern while they reside at a camp for the year whereas other students intern at Christian schools, mission organisations or in the marketplace.

NZ Diploma in Christian Studies (Christian Leadership) (Level 6)

The NZ Diploma in Christian Studies (Christian Leadership) (Level 6) uses a Host Organisation model whereby students are connected to a Host Organisation throughout the year. Students can also do their ministry placement courses (four weeks in Semester One and eight weeks in Semester Two) at this Host Organisation.
